

ADVANCES IN MANAGEMENT & ETHICS RESEARCH

NOW ACCEPTING STUDENT PAPERS!

This double-blind, peer-reviewed biannual journal serves as a national platform for the recognition and promotion of high-quality undergraduate research in management, broadly defined to include fields such as business ethics, organizational behavior, leadership, organizational psychology, and human resources.

ISSN: 2642-9691 (print); ISSN: 2642-9705 (online).

Benefits of Publishing in AMER

- Raise your student profile and establish your reputation as a writer and researcher.
- Make a genuine contribution to the field of management.
- Have your work distributed to colleges and universities across the United States.
- Demonstrate your skills and knowledge of the research process to graduate programs.
- Receive a publication decision in a timely manner.
- Pay no submission fee or publication charge.
- Compete for the Best Paper Award, including a $250 honorarium and a certificate.

General Requirements

- Undergraduate students currently enrolled in a business program at any accredited institution are welcome to submit research papers for review.
- Recent graduates of an accredited institution's business program may submit papers for review within six months of graduation, provided that the work was written during undergraduate study.
- Each submission must have a faculty sponsor.
- Students may submit research conducted under the direction of a faculty member (e.g. senior honors thesis), but not research co-authored with faculty members.
