

Mission Statements

CJBE: Our Mission is to enhance the distinctiveness of Jesuit schools of business and related programs through an ongoing exchange of ideas regarding curriculum, teaching, research, and service in the Ignatian, Catholic, and Humanistic traditions.

IAJBS: [Our mission is to] foster a global network of business educators dedicated to empowering agents of change committed to justice, humanity, and a sustainable future through shared knowledge and collaboration aligned with our Jesuit values.

Primary Sustainability Challenge

1. Buy in from deans and presidents (senior administration) (x3) as well as interest from faculty (x2)
2. Fewer resources to support multiple organizations; growing concern about travel budgets
3. Having two "competing" conferences is counterproductive; IAJBS and CJBE are doing the same things.
4. We're on autopilot; we collect dues and host conferences, but we're not expanding or reaching new people.

Takeaway: 7 to 2 prefer regional divisions

What is your preliminary preference for when and how to convene?

9 responses

- Joint conference every X years (e.g., every 2–3 years)
- Alternating years: CJBE-only / IAJBS-only / joint conference
- CJBE programming as an integrated track within IAJBS
- Joint conference every 2 years; CJBE conference-alone in the "other" year...
- Dayle's suggestion - alternating CJBE and IAJBS meetings.

Takeaway: Definitely fewer competing conferences and perhaps fewer conferences.

Financial Priorities

1. Conference subsidies x5
2. More funding for faculty collaboration x3
3. Research grants for publishing in the Journal of Jesuit Business Education x3
4. Grants to support regional divisions
